Knee-Sprung Horses

It is a slow and troublesome task to cure a knee-sprung horse after the trouble has become chronic, but if taken in time, says an exchange, it should be cured without that slopes downward from the manger for the purpose of readily carrying off the urine. A young horse standing on a floor of this kind has his toes higher than his heels, and the continued strain on the back sinews of the fore legs becomes so severe that the horse is induced to slightly bend his knees in order to slacken the tention. He thus acquires the habit of standing with slightly bended knees, whether he happens to be standing whether he happens to be standing on an incline or a level. The way to overcome the evil is to precisely reverse the conditions which induce it. Make the horse stand so that his heels will stand considerably higher than his toes. This abnormally slackens the back sinews and they afford no support to keep the knees from still further bending. The horse has nothing to steady his knees, and in order to find something that will answer the purpose he will straighten out his legs to the fullest possible extent to force some little pressure upon those very sinews which his elevated heels and slightly bended knees have wholly slackened. He thus acquires the habit of standing with his knees slightly bent under reserved conditions. If any farmer doubts the correctness of this theory, let him stand on the level floor with the balls of his feet resting upon an ordinary walking stick, and, after experimenting with it in this position for five The ORIGINAL ABIETINE OINTMENT is only put up in large two onnee

Enough to Feed All Britain. Minnesota and Dakota, with 915,-000 people in 1880, and perhaps 1,500,000 now, produced more wheat last year than Great Britain and Ireland with $5,000,000 people. The British islands comprise about The Children. They are especially liable to sudden Colds, Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough, etc. We guarantee Acker's about one acre for 15 inhabitants. 121,000 square miles, and devote to 6,000,000 acres of wheat, or about four acres for every inhabitant, and with a good yield could easily sell for export as much as Great Britain and Ireland produce. Yet the British crop this year is considered a good one, notwithstanding the hot drouth which reduced the yield to about 30 bushels to the acre. With thorough farming, the lands now cultivated for wheat in Dakota and Minnesota would supply nearly as much as the entire population of the British islands consume,-[London Economist.

of land-turtle oil.

By the most reliable authorities on live stock affairs, among which is the Agricultural Department of the United States, the total number of cattle in the world is estimated at 227,886,475 head, while the grand total of horses amounts to but 59,834,329 head. Taking the population of the world to be 1,262,840,-000 as generally estimated there would be less than one head of cattle to every six people, while few could ride, as there would not be one horse to every 24 persons. In the matter of sheep of which there is estimated to be 449,558,456, and swine of which the grand total is placed at 94,544,447 head, there would be but one mutton to every three persons, and one porker to every twelve. Allowing a grand distribution for beef purposes of all the animals numerated to take place at once, if such could be done, the close of 1888 would see and the close of 1888 would see each specie as extinct as is the mammoth and mastodon.

INFANTILE SKIN DISEASES

Our oldest child, now six years of age, when an infant six months old was attaked with a virulent, malignant skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who attempt d to cure from the spread with a most incredible rapidity, until the lower portion of the little fellow's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees, was one solid rash, ugly, painful, blucked, and malicious. We had no rest at night, no peace by day. Finally, we were advised to try the CUTICURA RENEDIES. The effect was simply marveil us. In three or four weeks a complete cure was wrought, leaving the little fellow's person as white and heat thy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion your valuable remedies saved his life, and to-day he is a strong, healthy child, perfectly well, he repotition of the disease having ever occurred.

GROVES OF MAMMOTH OAKS OF SURPASSING BEAUTY

Best of Soils for Oranges, Lemons, Figs, Peaches, Cherries, and all Tropical and other Fruits.

O BONITO COLONY LANDS ARE LOCATED IN BUTTE COUNTY California, and along the prettiest part of Feather River. They are about eight miles south of Oroville, three miles from Gridley, and two miles from Biggs, on the Oregon and California Railroad, and seventy-three miles from Sacramento. There are growing on the lands white oak trees, some of which are thirty-five feet in circumference. The soil is a rich, sandy loam, and cannot be surpassed in productiveness. Citrus and all kinds of deciduous fruits ripen here to perfection. Rio Bonito Colony Lands are a garden spot, and are certain to be the most popular for homes of any to be found in Central California.

John S. Hutchins.

If your land were in fruit bearing trees, the land would be worth and would pay a good interest on an investment of $500 per acre. Our orchard of 75 acres adjoining your place, this year yielded at the rate of $300 per acre.

On such land as yours, all kinds of fruit do well. A test of 75 of my apple trees showed a yield last year at the rate of 1,000 per acre. There has not been even one failure of my apple crop in 30 years. PHILLIP HEFNER,

My orchard is 27 years old, and ad-ning your land which is exactly the same as mine. The net average per acre, without irrigation, has not less than $200 per annum. I have not less than $200 per annum. I have not lost a fruit crop in 27 years from frost or any other cause.

frost or any other cause.
D. STREETER, Biggs. I know the great capabilities of your place as a fruit ranch. In five years after planting, that land in olives would yield fully $300 per acre in oil, and will increase year after year until its annual yield will exceed $500.

JOHN C. GRAY, Dist. Att'y.

This section of Butte County is one of the best in California for fruit culture. Such land as this, if set out to fruits, would, at the end of three years, it is estimated, be worth at least $500 per acre. At this rate, twenty acres in fruit within three years would be worth $10,000. The managers will take charge of the setting out of fruit trees for purchasers of land, and at the actual cost of doing the same. The land is now for sale in tracts to suit at $100 per acre, on easy one-third cash; balance in one, two and three years at eight per cent

THE majority of the Canadian papers are very bitter in their hos-tility to the Fishery Treaty. They denounce it as an unconditional surrender of everything that the Dominion fishermen have been contending for. The Toronto Globe makes a violent attack on the treaty. It asserts that it was brought about by Tory desire to conciliate the yesterday. During the day numerou United States even at the cost of developments regarding the private the sacrifice of every Canadian inthe sacrifice of every Canadian interest, and it goes on to recommend that since the British government has shown so little regard for the Interests of the Dominion, Canada ought to adopt the retaliatory policy of discriminating against British goods by entering into an agreement for reciprocal freedom of commerce between Canada and the United States. It may possibly be that this is the feeling lying back of the resolution introduced by Sir Richard Cartright in the Dominion Parliament, calling upon the government of the Dominion to "take steps to ascertain on what terms and conditions arrangements can be effected with the United States for the purpose of securing full and unrestricted reciprocity in trade therewith."

It is proposed to settle some of the evicted Scotch crofters on lands in British Columbia adjacent to the Provincial government against the feeling large the fisheries, either the Imperial or the Provincial government against the state of the provincial government against the feeling that the provincial government against the feeling that the state of the evicted Scotch crofters on lands in British Columbia adjacent to the Provincial government against the feeling that the provincial government against the feeling that the state of the provincial government against the provincial government agains terest, and it goes on to recommend They were decidedly of an off-color fisheries, either the Imperial or the Provincial government assisting the movement. That kind of assisted immigration might be productive of good. The crofters are the vicare capable of making a living if opportunity is afforded them, and the proposed conditions would place them in familiar circumstances, to which they could readily accommodate themselves. It is a very different project from settling down a lot of London or Manchester artisans in a wilderness, giving them tools and seed, and telling them to make a living at a business of the town have had to step in and pay clerical force in order to obtain postal facilities. The office appropriation is $2,700, and it costs more than $5,000 to run it. The present postmaster, J. J. Peel, has carried the undertaking in expectation that the government would come to his relief. The inadequacy of the appropriation was drawn to their notice a year ago, and since then the authorities have been constantly appealed to for relief. Mayor Hoover has telegraphed the Oregon representatives in Washington urging them to secure relief. The entire community warmly espouses the tims of a vicious land system. THE Sheriff of Worcester county, Massachusetts, has been mulcted in $300 damages for putting in the solitary cell and tying to a post an inmate of the Worcester jail who persisted in singing "The Sweet Bye-and-Bye" after being requested repeatedly to stop. Massachusett jurors are strange creatures. One would have thought they would have found a verdict for the sheriff and started a collection to defray the cost of his defense. The sheriff may have been a little rough, but hardly any punishment is too severe for the man who would have so little consideration for the feelings of his fellow sufferers, as to add the torments of money back with interest. When there happened to be a scarcity of natives somewhere or other to buildoze into a protectorate and when the most obnoxious Irishy are in Kilmainhan or Tullamore, then the sober sense of the Briton alternates these rebel bonds with new heirs to the Blythe estate.

THE Philadelphia Inquirer, in commenting upon Blaine's letter of withdrawal, remarks that it is a demonstration that the Republican party "is in better condition to win than it was in 1894." Philadelphia has always been noted for living in the last century, but it seems from this effort that when it makes the noblest effort of its life to catch up with the times there is need of a phronological air-brake.

We have a somewhat indistinct emembrance that when the Presi-ential new broom was sweeping can, something was said about Offensive Partisanship." It all depends on whose toe-drn is stepped on. Now that an election is pending and Grover Cleveland controls the post-offices and sich like, the term "Offensive Partisanship" seems to have fallen into inocuous descutude.

GLADSTONE'S commendation of the results of the mission of Cham-berlain, his political enemy, and the overwhelming vote in favor of the credit for the expenses of the Commission, is pretty good evidence that England has got the best and of the fisheries negotiation.

We have received from Alsea a which we are requested to publish. We cannot do it. Milton and Daute We cannot do it. Milton and Dante have supplied us with abundant literature on that subject, the only difference between theirs and the present poem being that whereas "Paradise Lost" and "Inferno" were each a poem of hell, this is a hell of a poem.—Benton Leader.

Worth Knowing.

Mr. W. H. Morgao, merchant, Lake City, Fla., was taken with a severe cold, attended with a distressing cold, attended with a distressing cough and running into consumption in its first stage. He tried many so-called popular cough remedies and steadily grew worse. Was reduced in fiesh, had difficulty in breathing and was unable to sleep. Finally tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and found immediate relief, and after using a half-dozen bottles, found himself well and had no return of the disease. No other remedy can show so grand a record of cures as Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Guaranteed to do just what is claimed for it. Trial bottle free at Hodgkinson & Co's drug store.

Renews Her Youth. Mrs. Phœbe Chesley, Peterson, Clay county, Iowa, tells the following recounty, Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without he p. Now I am free from all pain and soreness, and am able to do all my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all disease and pain." SHEEP AND SHEPHERDS EASTERN NEVADA.

Charles Crocker's Princely Do-main — A Shipping Point for Both East and West—The Utah Hoom May Slop Over.

ELKO, March 3, 1888.

EDITOR GAZETTE. — The great sheep interests of the state in eastern localities seems to have suffered more during the present winter than any other kind of stock. As before remarked, the depth of snow was greater southward than north, a fact almost phenomenal in the history of the State. As no two winters are ever alike, the probabilities are that the past winter will not duplicate itself for a period of twenty-five or thirty years. Mr. Mitchell of Huntington valley, who has a large band of sheep that was driven in the early fall southward into White Pine county, has been heard from, and has wintered reasonably well. He thinks his loss will not exceed more than 1,200 by lambing time, and he seems well satisfied with the result, considering the large band owned by him.

I am informed by reliable parties ELKO, March 8, 1888.

I am informed by reliable parties that P. Martin, who wintered his band of sheep some thirty-five miles east of Austin in Grass valley, Lander county, was not so fortu-nate as Mr. Mitchell, as his loss was quite heavy, being not less than 1,000 out of 4,000 head. This is the heaviest loss I have heard of in all eastern Nevada. All of the sheepmen report heavy weather throughout southern White Pine, Eureka, Lander, porthern Nye and Lincoln countles. Nevertheless. from some unaccountable cause. certain localities seem to have been partially exempt from the most of the severe weather, and consequently one bunch of cat-le or sheep in a certain locality may have suffered considerably, while another band of cattle or sheep bave come out of the winter in good con-dition and the distance intervening between these bunches of stock not exceed fifty or sixty miles.

Close observers of wind and weather and the affect that high mountains have on the locality in their immediate vicinity, assert that high mountains with deep canyons that make down into the valleys below, coursing their way east and west, are always warmer than those running north and south, but give no substantial reason bebut give no substantial reason beyon I their observation for this fact.
There is one weather condition that I have observed along the like of the Upper Humboldt river, and

The Lvy Lent. The San Francisco Call, of February 21st, says: The Ivy Leaf is drawing very good audiences, numerically and otherwise. It is a clever arrangement of old material; but, like old friends, old books and old wine, the well-remembered and the fully appreciated sometime pleases more than novelty. People with tentative instinct like new things; conservative-minded individuals, on the other hand, are satisfied with what they already know and have proved. One feature of this picture of Hibernian life is the performance on the Irish pipes, an instrument much less known than the Scotch bag-pipes, known than the Scotch bag-pipes, with a drone as if a thousand bees were imprisoned in its bag. A filt by the Irish pipe is something worth listening to, and especially when he branches off into the air which embellishes Tom Moore's "Nora Crefisa," and you almost hear, singing through the music, "Lesbia hath a beaming eye," the well-known words of the song. Some of the dramatic effects in The Tvy Leaf are full of life and action, and the general run of the piece never fails to give satisfaction," Governor Stevenson has issued a preclamation designating April 6th as Arbor Day. He says: "And I hereby request that it be observed, so far as practicable, throughout ing of trees, shrubs and vines, in the promotion of forest growth and culture, in the adorament of public and private grounds, places and ays, and in such other efforts and undertakings as shall be in har-mony with the character of the day so established. The proprieter is now ready to receive proposals for lots in Powning's Addition. The map gives a good idea of the Tract, which is ituated between the Central Pacific Railroad and the Truckee River, and commences on the west at a point three blocks distant from Virginia street, making it the most central and convenient of any portion of the rapidly growing town of Reno. Unlike any other part of the own, this addition faces the beautiful Truckee River, and Riverside avenue is certain to become the fashionable driveway of the country. The streets are 30 feet wide, while Riverside and Keystone avenues are intended to be 100 feet in width. All alleys are 20 feet wide. The oil is a rich gravelly loam, and susceptible of the highest state of cultivation. Being situated as it is, it is more exempt from fire than any ther section. The regular lots are 50x140 feet. The sewerage is perfect.

LIFE RENEWER.

New Mexico Stock Grower.]

A plain question, of much discussion, is answered to the range cattlemen to-day. The great prob lem of "how to better the range industry" has been a Gordian knot which the leading brains and bes men of the business have been trying to straighten out for more than three years, or ever since the great frolic, the cattlemen's convention of 1884. The southwest, New Mexico and Arizona have felt the decline in cattle values fully as much as any other section, and in New Mexico much thought has been applied for a remedy. The thinking cowman of to-day looks over the events of the past two years, puts two and two together and says: "It is North vs. South," not in the old rebellion spirit, but as a living fact of the cattle business as it now is. To the north, in Colorado and the maturing range, is seen (to use a stock market expression) the bear element, composed of those who would buy the steers from the breeding section, and the big, or little, brokerage concerns, whose money is made from the commissions received for selling the steers of New Mexico, Arizona and Texas to the aforementioned owners of maturing ranges. All of these people, looking over the record of the transactions (sales of southwest steers to Colorado buyers), have helped in a great measure to reduce the price of range cattle. Their constant cry has been "too high, knock off $3 a head." These buyers of young steers have had things pretty much their own way for the past three years and have helped the dressed beef men to impoverish the range breeder of the southwest. Some of the brokers have stood in with the play and have helped to squeeze down the prices paid for steers, even while posing as the would-be saviors of

Look at the record of the southwest. The California boom developed a heavy demand for beef on the coast, and half a dozen cowmen have stepped into the slaughtering business, and not only opened a market for the product of their own ranges, but have branched out and are now disposing of a large portion of the beef stock of the southwest at good prices. These men de not screw down prices and then charge their fellow cattlemen a dollar a head the southwestern rangemen.

fellow cattlemen a dollar a head for "not breaking up a trade."

These men say, "Sell us your cattle and we will pay you what they are worth." And they are paying from two to three cents a pound on the cars for steers to-day.

An ounce of practice is worth a ton of theory and the development of the California market has already been worth more money to the cattlemen of New Mexico and Arizona than all the trusts, secret schemes and other loceed, wind-pudding, self-blowing side shows ever thought of.

and shows the cattlemen that if they stick to the old cow and let time fix up things all will be well. Drop, like a hot iron, the men who say that cattle are too high, and that the better time will get here in three or four years. Don't sacrifice your steers to the men who make $20 a head for running them a year and a half on Colorado free grass. Try the California trade and the northern market will improve all the sooner.

Several car-loads of Hereford and Shorthorn cattle have recently been shipped from Illinois to South America, principally to Buenos Ayres.

The outlook for another prosperous season for the herds of the southwest is just now exceptionally fine, in the opinion of the New Mexico Stock Grower.

Cattle alone represent one-fourth of the assessed value of taxable property in New Mexico.
